LONDON'S PATRIOTIC DEMONSTRATION.

August 4, 6.25 p.m. The congregation that assembled at the anniversary service at Paul's Cathedral was most representative. It included a number of royalties, Mr. Asquith, Earl Kitchener, Mr. Auston Chamberlain, membergof the Cabicet, and of the Lorde and Commons, ambassadors, Sir Robert Borden, and various High Commissioners. The most pathetic feature was the wounded, many of whom had lost s. leg or arm, walking with crutches, while others, totally blind were led to their seate. The Archbishop of Canterbury, in the course of a stirring sermon, dwelt on the common daty of bringing every ounce of strength to bear in furtherance of the right. He concluded with a splendid tribute to "those whom we should have called quite repulsed. ordinary men who are passing straight from the prosaic paths of common life to man with dauntless courage the Aegean precipioes or suspended business at noon, the members singing the National trabend. What we have Madarzina front to the Warsaw done has vastly exceeded what we expected to do, but that is only a position part of what we are going to do."

GERMANS AGAIN THROWN BACK.

August 4, 5 40 p.m. Reuter's correspondent in Paris states that the Crown Prince's army caused all night long liveliness in Argonne. It delivered three attacks, against Hill No. 213. Fontaine sux Charmes and Marie Therese respectively. Everywhere the Germans were thrown back in'o their trenches by our infantry and artillery fire. Heavy grenade fighting took place at Artois and in the Vosges, which was to the advantage of the French. The communique concludes: repulsed a counter-attack at Barenkopf.

THE RUSSIANS.

MORE ENEMY CLAIMS AND ADMISSIONS.

August 4, 8.15 p.m. Reuter's correspondent at Amsterdam states that the clash tonight is nearer Warsaw itself. A Berlin communique claims that the Russians have been thrown from the Blonie position into the outer line of the fortress and that the army of Prince Leopold of Bavaria is attacking Warsaw. Russia's Great Stand. Undismayed by the fact that the enemy is knocking at its door Wareaw apparently continues it daily rouling of work and pleasure very-much as usual. Could there be any greater testimony to the faith of the Russian people in the power which is stalling of the invader than the telegram which we published yesterday? The intensity of the fighting on the Russian front, together with the momentous paign in that theatre, have almost monopolised the war space of the press for some weeks; but, while tens of thousands of men are being lost daily, the Germans show no sign of wavering in purro; e and on the other hand the Russians are more than ever resolved to carry the war to a victorious conclusion. What to make I the nituation we hardly know, but we pist bur faith on Russia's perseverance and vast resources in men and material to see the thing through according to her desires.

Daily Press.

The Meaning of Italy's Tribute to England.

Nearly all the most important Italian towns lie on or close to the shores, and the Italian main lines of railway hug the shore and are carried over innumerable viaducts and bridges, and through hundreds of lunnels which can be easily destroyed from the rea. All Italy's interests, immediate and prospective, therefore, clearly required her to join forces with England, France and Russia, against her two former partners in the Triple Alliance. That alliance was a political abortion from the beginning, because the Austro-Hungarian Empire was Italy's detrmined enemy in the Balkan Peninsula, and has remained so while it is more than possible that Italy, like Belgium, was on Germany's list of European States whose independence was destined in certain aventualities to be suppresent. Among to-day's telegrams is one which suggests that Italy's participation in the war will extend farther than many prople have been disposed to believe that it would. Her co-operation in the war against Turkey is a natural outcome of the long sustained attitude of hostility on the part of the Porte towards her. and Italy's help in this arena of the war should do much to accelerate the opening of the Dardanelles and the Bosphorus.

Ohina Mail.

A Turning Point of the War.

The military critic of the Manchester Guardian takes a similar view, and, speaking of this continual exchanging of trenches which has marked the fighting in that region, as ye; In themselves the military effect of these combats is often little more than a mutual slaughtering in which that side wine which puts the greater number of men out of action. Lye-witness' has himself drawn attention to this aspect of the war. Ultimately numbers will winnumbers of men and numbers of guns. The Allies, especially since the entry into the war of Italy, have the greater resources in men. If therefore, they succeed in putting out of action more or even only as many Austro-Germana as they themselves lose—and do not fall behind in armament—they are fighting a winning bettle." The fighting in this region, in which the famous "Labyrinth' is situated, has been very severe. and the Morning Post states that the cow-captured Labyrinth, which lies to the south of Neuville-St. Vesst, contains in an area of some two square miles a perfect mare of trenches over fifteen miles long in the aggregate.

At present : there are many indications pointing to a bir ofensive movement on the part of the Allies in northern France and in the vicinity of Tpres. We are now hotter ablanta opper with the enemy and the hope may therefore be induged in the solution progress may some be realised.

For Valour. On June 26 1857 Queen Victoris made the first distribution of the Victoria Cross, 62 officers and men receiving it from her bands in Hyde Park. The Cross itself was instituted on January 29, 1856, and the idea is said to have originated with the fifth Duke of Newcastle, who was our first Secretary of State for War: The original motto auggested for the Cros was. "For the Brave. for which Queen Victoria substituted "For Valour." Queen Victoria did not like the designation "V.O.," holding that people might mistake wearers of the Cross for Vice-Chancellors, and suggested "D.V.C." (Decorated with the Victoria Cross). However, no one has ever mistaken the significance of the initials.

LOG BOOK.

The Far Best.

The service to the Far East had been stopped since September 1, no cargo being available from European ports. Three vessels usually running in this trade were requiritioned. The mobilisation created extremely important gaps in the staff, which was of great inconvenience to the company. A certain number of the company's assistants had fallen on the field of honour. The balance-sheet gives the amounts in which the State is indebted to the company: On November 30, 1914, it is stated. they amounted to f.17,790,109 c.86. This has since been increased. as the company has continued to execute the voyages it was ordered to. The insurance fund has been brought up to the sum of f 5,182,523 c.44. The reserve fund on November 30, 1913, amounted to f.3.103.420 c.18, which has been increased by f.80,027, c.63, and is now f.3,184,-047 c.81. The profit and loss account gives a balance of f.638,980 c.86, which is too small an amount to admit of any dividend. In the previous year the balance on the profit and loss account amounted to 1.1,137,866

The administration had to adopt a line of conduct which did not seem to be to its advantage. The requisitioning of vessels brought But since the beginning of hostilities the attitude of the company has been one of resolute solicitude for and patriotic cooperation with the Government. The Under-Secretary of the Admiralty" announced in his letter, dated Aug. 14, 1914, that the Government had decided to take possession of the mail services conceded to the company. The company had made its arrangements to execute the new services, particularly that with Odessa, with fast vessels. This service was considered by the Admiralty to be of the greatest importance. When it was found to be of the greatest importance to secure communication by sea between France and Russia, which communication had been made impossible by land, and also to maintain contact between France and her colonies, viz., Madagascar and Indo-China, the company jadged it should assist the wishes of the Government. During the bombardment of Odessa, on Occober 29, three of the company's vessels were lying in that port -Portugal, Oxus, and Equateur. The Portugal sustained serious damage, and two members of the crew were killed. The closing of the Narrows caused the immobilies. tion of these three steamers in the Black Sea. It is unnecessary to say that the results of the voyages were almost deplorable. The following shows the difference in receipts for certain voyages in 1914 and 1913 respectively. To the Far East: Atlantique: Sailed Marseilles on September 20, 1914. Total receipts f.110,730.20. Ernest Simon: Sailed for same voyage on September 21, 1913. Total receipts 1.216.327.90. Owing to the position created by the war the company were compelled to stop the construction of the new liner General Duchesne, ordered for the far Lastern service. The company could not, as a a new vessel represented. At the present time the following steamers are under construction :- Andre Lebon : Nearly completed. Sphinz and Athos: Building considerably delayed. but approaching completion. The latter vessel, which was being built at Dunkirk, has been taken to St. Nazaire. Porthos: Also in course of completion.

BONAR LAW'S SPEECH.

GREATER POWERS FOR THE DOMINIONS.

August 5, 3.00 pm, -Mr. Bonar Law in His speech at Folkestone further said that there was no more striking example in the world to-day than the part played by the British Dominions. The Germans had lost in Africa territory as large as the German E upire. The forces of the self governing Dominion, were led by its Premier, and the feeling of pride in that victory was increased enormously by the knowledge that the man who had fought against England only fifteen years ago was the man who gave his word to stand by the Empire. He was standing by it nobly to-day.

Mr. Bonar Law paid a tribute to the deeds of the Canadians and the Australasians. Things would not be the same after the war. The mother-land had already arranged with the Dominions that they should have their say in the peace negotiations. That was a great step, but only a step. He had long hoped, and now believed, that the time would come when the whole of the Capital 9,9 Oordinary Dominions, in proportion to their population and resources, would share with the mother-land the duty and honour of governing the Empire.

DAY BY DAY.

The Extradition Case. Continuing his evidence in the extradition proceedings, against Hung Shiu Lung on three charges of murder, Inspector Watt, in answer to Mr. Bruttone's crossexamination, said that much of his evidence, as to investigations, made at Sam To Chuk, was, except regarding photographs etc., hearsay. He had not brought down the books of the Yu Tai shop, the building in which the first murder was alleged to have taken place, because he did not think them essential. The case was again adjourned.

Green Teas.

Country tess, chops, uncoloured have met with a good demand from American buyers at Tle. 35 to Tle. 48 per picul. The active demand for all grades still continues, and very little remains unsold at the end of each day's business. Gun-powders and Foongmess seem rather firmer, Chunmees are unchanged. Natives talk confidently of a shortage in the crop, and from present indications it seems probable there will be an appreciable deficiency in supplies from low country districts.

Figures to date are as follows: Country teas including locally arrivale, half chests, agains 80,801 for 1913/4. Settlements reported 1915/6 50,771 against 1914/5 89 987, and 1913/4 48,711. The arrivals of Hysons amount to 52,000 half obests, while settlements reach 22,000 half cheets. All grades opened on a ressonable Basis, and have since met a steady demand, especially common and low medium, which have risen Tls. 2 per picul since the opening. The arrival of Hoochows and Pingsueys packed in half chests have been unusually heavy, and in consequence for three weeks after the opening, Pingsueys in boxes were soarce and commanded full prices for early shipment. Arrivals are now coming in freely, and at present the market is on the easy side. Arrivals to date are in excess of last year, but it is not expected that the total crop will exceed last season's output.

· Japan's China Trade,

The authorities have published an interesting table showing the competition between foreign rivals and Japan's chief lines of export in China says the Japan Chronicle. It is stated that, according to a quarterly report of the Chinese Customs of imports of cotton yarn and cloths from January to March, 1915, Japanese goods were the largest in quantity, all descriptions showing an increase, compared with the figures for the corresponding period of last year-20 per cent. in cctton yarn, 24 per cent. grey shirtings, 26 per cent. figured cloths (auamemem), and 20 per cent. T clothe. It is true that the imports of Japanese cotton drills show a decrease of 7 per cent., but it would be more correct to group these with figured cictie, the increase on the two together being 21/2 per cent. Indian cot on yarn shows a falling-off of 13 per cent., and a decrease is also recorded for European and American cotton cloth, while Chinese cetton yarn shows a steady increase, encroaching upon the markets of foreign goods. The following are the details as compared with last year :--
